Car, Truck Burn After Crash On Route 111

Auto Driver Burned Seriously; 14 Hurt In Local Accidents

A fiery auto-truck crash on Route 111 yesterday afternoon caused $23,000 damage and resulted in an Edwardsville man being seriously burned.

It was one of 12 Quad-City area traffic accidents this week, including five multiple-injury collisions that led to 14 persons being hospitalized or given emergency treatment.

Two drivers were injured — one burned seriously — in a blazing crash of an auto and a syrup tanker truck about 4:15 p.m. Wednesday on Route 111 near Lakeside Airport. Fire damage was estimated at $25,000 to the air-conditioned truck tractor and $300 to the automobile.

Burned in the crash in which the fuel tank of the tractor was smashed and caught fire, was the driver of the car, Eugene Fensterman, 80, of 440 West Union street, Edwardsville. He was given emergency treatment here and transferred to the burn center at Barnes Hospital, St. Louis.

The trucker, Karl Grober, 51, of Wood River, suffered minor injuries.

State police said Fensterman was traveling south on Route 111 and apparently lost control of his car, going off the pavement and then skidding broadside into the northbound truck loaded with 7000 gallons of syrup.

Long Lake volunteer firemen were at the scene an hour. They were able to save the tank-trailer, except for tire damage, but the tractor and auto were destroyed.

A 4-Hurt in Crash

Four Quad-City men were injured about 4:10 p.m. Wednesday in a two-car collision at the intersection of U.S. 50, U.S. 67, and U.S. 67A, west of Mitchell.

State police said the cars were being driven by Joseph Clark, 44, of 2008 Missouri avenue, who was headed east on Chain of Rocks road, and Charles R. Cooper, 47, of 72 Venice homes, who was traveling south.

Injured were two passengers in the Clark auto — Mrs. Mary L. Clark, 44, and Jackie L. Clark, 15. Two other children, Gregory, 12, and Jodie, 5, were unhurt.

Eugene R. Burnett Named to Bi-State Agency Board

Appointment of Eugene R. Burnett of Granite City as a commissioner for the Illinois-Missouri Bi-State Development Agency was announced Tuesday at Springfield by Gov. Samuel H. Shapiro.

Burnett, former Granite City police chief and now supervisor of security and services for Dow Chemical Company's Madison plant, succeeds Terry Francis, Granite City lawyer, whose term expired in January.

In addition, Rotter's office said, financial firms have informed the town collector that they also have a number of protests to be filed in behalf of their customers, Finance firms holding mortgages on real estate property customarily make tax payments for the buyer.

The Burnett family is due back this week from a vacation in California. The next meeting of the Bi-State board is scheduled tentatively for July 24. Burnett's term will be for five years, expiring in January 1973.

Other Illinois commissioners on the board are Edward J. Delmore Jr. of Caseyville; Roy J. May of Waterloo; Charles E. Hamilton of East St. Louis; and Col. Ralph B. Jackson of Alton.

The five Missouri commissioners are Morton R. Bearman of Clayton; Joseph Cousin of St. Louis; Robert S. Knapp of St. Louis; Guy Roper of St. Louis; and Admiral Sidney W. Souers of St. Louis. Knapp is the board's chairman.

Nameoki Residents Protest Taxes

Objections Based on 25% Boost in Values By Board of Review

Formal tax protests based on the 25% increase in Nameoki township property assessments ordered earlier this year by the Madison county Board of Review have been initiated by a number of Nameoki homeowners in the first such organized move of its kind by individual taxpayers.

The office of Nameoki Tax Collector Gene Rotter reported the protests were filed during the township's recent tax collection period which ended last week. The protests involve approximately $10,000 in taxes, the office said.

In addition, Rotter's office said, financial firms have informed the town collector that they also have a number of protests to be filed in behalf of their customers, Finance firms holding mortgages on real estate property customarily make tax payments for the buyer.

ENTHUSIASTIC YOUNGSTERS assist Venice Alderman Charles Hampton, wielding shovel (left) in excavating area behind Lee Wright Homes in Venice to accommodate a portable swimming pool to be provided by Economic Opportunity Commission. The pool will be only one of its type in area due to willingness of city of Venice to aid financially in operation. The city will provide lighting, water, lifeguard and adult supervision.

Venice, EOC Provides Jobs, Recreation for Youngsters

A youth work program providing jobs for boys 16 to 18 years old and expanded recreational activities for younger children is under way in Venice as part of a cooperative movement between the city and the Economic Opportunity Commission.

At the moment a three-phase program is sponsored by the EOC and the city in which the city is providing some of its own funds to make the program possible.

Nine boys are now working under direction of the street department in a job program for which the city is footing part of the bill. While the EOC has placed four boys on the job at a rate of $1.25 per hour, the city is paying five more at a rate of $1.30 per hour.

Paint Curb, Fireplugs

The boys, working 26 hours per week under the EOC phase and 40 hours per week under the city's part of the program, cut weeds, paint curbs and fireplugs and do other street department chores that otherwise would take up the time of regular street department employees.

John Maurer, Venice street superintendent, said the boys work hard and accomplish much in the way of cleaning up the city. The program provides the boys with money with which most of them hope to return to school in the fall.

The city, in addition, is sponsoring construction of a basketball court and playground on city-owned property in the 1100 block of Logan street.

'Wild Drivers' Keep GC Police on Run

Three "wild driver" complaints were received in a two-hour period last night between 7:40 and 9:30. The elusive motorists disappeared before arrests could be made.

Speeders were reported to first complaint received from the 2800 block of Dale avenue, while at 8:30, police reported a second complaint from the 2800 block of Roosevelt street and Rock road where the driver of a gray 1967 Buick was reportedly driving on the sidewalk, challenging pedestrians.

The 9:30 complaint was received from the 2800 block of Adams street, concerning a "wild and speeding driver."

Rain Caves In Store Roof; Damage $6000

Monday afternoon's heavy downpour caved in the roof of the P-N-T, first floor, 1326 Nineteenth street, and caused damage estimated by Gerald Shaul, store manager, at more than $6000.

The roof apparently sagged under the weight of the P-N-T, which built up on the flat roof until it was pouring over the edge of the building into Edison avenue, Shaul said.

While the roof did not fall in, it sagged in the middle, and water poured into the store. Shaul said the water dripped down the walls, ceiling and floor, and that three inches of water on the store floor.

"We tried to sweep the water out, but as fast as we did the waves from passing cars washed it right back in again," Shaul said.

He said damage to merchandise would run between $800 and $1000, depending upon a final inventory of the damage, and that damage to the building, including new roof, ceiling and floor tile, will total more than $5000.

$100-Month Pay Hikes for City Staff in Madison

$1,250,000 to Build Caine Steel Plant in Budget of $1,944,990

A $100 monthly pay hike for all full-time city employees of Madison and $25 monthly raises for part-time personnel were authorized Tuesday evening by the Madison city council in adopting a budget totaling $1,944,990 for the May 1968-April 1969 fiscal year.

The appropriation total is an increase of $1,459,333 but includes $1,250,000 to finance construction of the new Caine Steel Co. industrial plant at the Stephen Maeras Industrial Park in Madison and $100,000 for painting and deck repairs at the Chain of Rocks Bridge. Both projects are to be financed with surplus revenue from former bridge toll operations.

Appropriated for general corporate purposes was $486,917, or $102,894 over the 1967-68 budget, with the pay increases a major factor.

Despite the salary hikes, Mayor Stephen Maeras asserted that the city will not seek to raise property taxes. "I believe our citizens are taxed to death at the present time as it is, although most of it goes to federal and hidden tax costs," he asserted.

The mayor said necessary additional revenue will come from sales taxes and the surplus proceeds of the Caine Steel plant. "Without the bridge fund, the city could not operate at its present level."

Maeras would have to be curtailed, no street improvements could be undertaken, serious cutbacks would have to be made in personnel and services in each department, and efforts to attract new industries to the community would be completely eliminated.

Living Costs Higher

Full-time city employees in Madison received $100-per-month across-the-board pay boosts in 1966, with no raises granted last year. "I think our employees deserve these raises and they certainly can use it with the cost of living going up every few months," Maeras said.

One of the major budget items in the fiscal year appropriation, to which was added the sum of $20,200 for "extraordinary legal fees" and a salary increase of $200 for the corporation counsel, doubling his pay. Yearly salary of the city (Continued on page 16, col. 3)

Expansion of Blood Program Here Discussed

Feasibility of expanding the Quad-City blood program was discussed during a monthly meeting of directors of the Tri-City chapter, American Red Cross, Tuesday afternoon at the First Granite City National Bank.

Under a program in operation during the past two years, with the Red Cross and St. Elizabeth Hospital cooperating, local organizations can obtain blood protection for the needs of all their members and the members' immediate families.

Eligibility is based on 25% of the members contributing blood each calendar year. Local employee groups and other organizations, formal and informal, currently participate and others not now taking part could be accommodated.

A study after the meeting indicated that sufficient funds are available to meet costs related to the operation of blood contribution centers, even on an expanded basis.

June blood contributions total 108 pints from the Granite City Army Depot and 144 at the Castings Division of General Steel Industries.

Committees to Be Named

Bernard Pinney, St. Elizabeth Hospital personnel director and new chapter chairman, presided at the meeting. He commented, "The 1968-69 year will be formed prior to the August meeting. Dan House and John Newlin will first the chapter board due to employment transfers."

Preparation of "dirty bags" for servicemen is continuing, a discussion brought out.

Treasurer Carl Thomsberry reported receipts of $42,313 and disbursements of $42,313 during the fiscal year ending June 30.

Support of national programs, including disaster service and aid to military personnel, totaled $17,640; staff costs, $11,246; service to military families, $778; blood program, $140; Red Cross youth, $742; first aid, water safety and disasters, $140.

Trailer Jack-Knives, Holds Up Rail Traffic

A tractor-trailer truck operated by Acta Freight line headquartered in Granite City, jack-knifed on the Pennsylvania railroad tracks, Route 203 and Ohlenberg road, at 10:30 p.m. yesterday and held up rail traffic over the line for nearly three hours.

Sheriff's deputies reported the trailer jack-knifed into a ditch along the railroad tracks as the tractor driver, Earl Harter, was turning the truck around. R. J. Kruven, road foreman of the railroad, informed deputies he held up rail traffic until the truck could be cleared from the tracks. He said the line was reopened at 3 a.m.

Nameoki Seeking Means to Block GC Storm Hookup

Legal action to prevent Granite City from directing storm-water drainage into the Nameoki drainage canal and thus into Horseshoe Lake will be taken by Nameoki township as soon as the proper course of action is determined, Harry Briggs, township supervisor, told a regular meeting of the town board Tuesday night.

Briggs described the Granite City plan to hook its new sewer system into the Nameoki area storm water drainage ditch, part of the East Side Levee and Sanitary district drainage system, as a serious flood threat for the Nameoki area in periods of heavy rains.

"We are real concerned about this," Briggs said.

Briggs suggested that Nick Vassileff, township attorney, file injunction proceedings as soon as possible, but Vassileff replied that he was not certain injunctive pleas would be the proper course of action.

Will Check Statutes

Vassileff told the board he would check the statutes to determine what might be done through court action and report later to the board. Briggs pointed out that a time element was involved. "They might be hooking into the ditch anytime," Briggs said. The attorney said that would make no difference.

Will Check Statutes

"If they hooked into the ditch and it was determined by the court that it was improper or illegal, they would have to disconnect it," Vassileff said.

Nameoki township objections to the Granite City sewer connection with Nameoki canal are based upon contentions by levee district officials earlier this year that the additional flow of stormwater from the Granite City sewer system would overtax capacity of the canal in period of heavy rains and flood much of the area.

In January this year, levee board officials turned down a formal request by Granite City for permission to use the channel which would carry the stormwater flow into Horseshoe Lake. They based their refusal upon engineering reports that said the channel would be unable to handle the additional drainage flow unless it were substantially enlarged.

Reversed Stand

In a later meeting with city officials, the levee board reversed its stand and granted the city permission to use the channel with the understanding that an expansion project be included among improvement items for which the levee board will seek state funds in the 1969 session of the Illinois Legislature. Cost was estimated at $250,000 to $300,000.

Briggs and Nameoki township officials maintain the additional drainage flow from the Granite City sewer system will constitute a constant flood threat to Nameoki property owners, particularly in the area of Horseshoe Lake.

The board also assigned to Vassileff the task of determining new boundaries of Precinct Six in Nameoki township after Briggs pointed out that neither he nor other township officials receive notices of annexations by other public agencies. Contrary, the proper polling place for some voters in the June 11 primary election results from boundary changes caused by annexation of Nameoki areas to Granite City, resulting in a request from the county clerk's office that a new determination of boundaries be made.

Briggs criticized the lack of state law requiring that officials of areas involved be notified of annexation procedures. He said he has no way of knowing what territories are annexed and that the town assessor does not know about it until the property is removed from the assessment books.

Protest Trailers

A small delegation of residents of Pontoon Beach attended the meeting and protested the location of a number of trailers on a single lot in the village. Frank Pich, who acted as spokesman, explained that the group thought the town board session was a Pontoon Beach village meeting, but while they were there they sought information as to a recourse of action in the village trailer problem.

Briggs explained that the township has no authority in village of Pontoon Beach and that regulation of trailers and their location is entirely up to the village board of trustees. Pich said petitions objecting to the trailers had been presented to the village board, but had been ignored.

Vassileff told the group that its only recourse in such a situation was to the village board. Vassileff also pointed out that instances of violations of zoning regulations in unincorporated areas are handled by the county board of supervisors.

New Policies on Class Size, Leaves, Bargaining Process

Three non-monetary agreements between Granite City schools and Teachers Federation Local 743, called for after the first two years of the present July 1966-June 1969 pact, include formal recognition that the local is the "sole and exclusive bargaining agency for all certificated personnel employed by the board with the exception of persons on the administrative salary schedule."

The bargaining recognition refers to basic rates of pay, total hours of employment per day, continuity of daily work schedules and all other conditions of employment.

If 30% of certificated personnel other than administrators petition the board, a collective bargaining election is to be held. This would have to occur prior to Oct. 1 of the fiscal year in which the working agreement expires, with the election held on the first Wednesday in December.

The organization winning the vote would become or remain the sole bargaining agency upon the expiration of the working agreement as of June 30. However, negotiations could begin before then for the next agreement.

As an extension of this new part of the working agreement, the school board has included within its policies collective bargaining election procedures. Polling places for certificated personnel would be Granite City high school, Marshall grade school and Nameoki grade school.

Previous wording of the working agreement designated Local 743 as the sole and exclusive bargaining agency "for its members."

Emergency, Personal Leaves

Newly added to the working agreement are emergency leaves and personal leaves. An emergency leave is defined as "something over which a person has no control and the person's presence is required." It does not include illness in the immediate family.

Categories include death of parents, spouse or child, death of spouse or child, death of spouse or child, death of spouse or child, death of spouse or child.

Another category is "urgent personal business," including court summons, attendance at funerals other than immediate family or other emergencies requiring presence. Total amount of emergency leave in any one year is four days, not counting the time resulting from deaths in the immediate family.

Leave for urgent personal business requires advance approval by the principal and superintendent.

Personal leaves are absence from work to conduct personal business other than that covered by emergency leave. Two days a year are permitted, with the principal notified by noon the preceding day. No reason needs to be given, but they are not to be used for personal reasons.

GC Park District To Get Grant for Land Purchase

A federal land grant of about $12,000 has been approved for the Granite City park district to pay part of the cost of the Beckmann property purchased by the park district several years ago, the park board announced during a regular meeting last night.

The 11-acre tract bought by the park district to be used for a new park development cost the district $33,000. Frank Rea, board secretary, said that as of July 15, the district will have paid $24,000, with the final payment due in 1969.

Under terms of the federal grant the government will pay the park district 50% of the amount it has paid on the property. Rea explained. The board last night authorized expenditure of $300 for an appraisal required by the government as a final step of the grant application.

The board also asked its engineering committee to check into an offer by Norman Holsinger of Granite City to give to the park district a log cabin which is located on land near the bluffs. The committee will check into cost of moving the cabin and its restoration on a new site in one of the parks.

Road to Dow Co. Near 10th Street Will Be Sought

Construction of a new auto-train grade level crossing and access point at State street between Tenth and Twelfth streets, proposed by Dow Chemical Co., received wholehearted support from the Madison city council at its regular meeting Tuesday evening.

Assistance and support from the council was sought in a letter from M. W. Dowell, manager of Dow's Madison plant, who said that present access into the industrial complex can only be gained, through the heavily populated West Madison area. He noted that congested conditions seriously hamper movement of traffic into and out of the plant.

Madison aldermen also agreed to reject bids for sandblasting and painting the Chain of Rocks Bridge, on the advice of the city's consulting engineers; accepted a report from the city building inspector which recommended various actions against owners of vacant, unsightly and nuisance property; and authorized the mayor to meet with the city and state highway engineers to renew efforts for installation of traffic signals at McCambridge avenue and Edwardsville road.

Requesting cooperation from city officials, the Dow manager placed special emphasis on hazardous conditions created by employee and commercial traffic into the present plant entrance, noting that two grade schools and a high school have bus pick up points in the immediate vicinity.

Mayor Stephen Maeras explained that approval by the Interstate Commerce Commission and railroad authorities is required before construction of the proposed grade level crossing can be undertaken.

He reminded council members that although 53% of Dow's Madison plant lies within the city of Venice and only 47% in Madison, the entire industrial complex is located in the Madison school district, thereby providing considerable financial assistance to the community.

If approval is secured, for a crossing at the proposed site, plant authorities plan to relocate the main entrance to its northeast property line, replacing the main entrance at College and Weaver streets.

Mayor Maeras said that an earlier recommendation which proposed construction of an overpass was abandoned as not feasible.

"Not only would an overpass prove very costly, but supports for an approachway would extend all the way to Madison avenue, making it necessary to raise property and make a great many people unhappy," the mayor said.

Further action on Dow's request was referred to the city's legal department, with instructions to request the ICC to conduct an investigation and arrange necessary hearings to accomplish the crossing project.

The decision to defer cleaning and painting of the city-owned Mississippi River bridge until early next year came after council members were told that high labor costs, specifically in the sandblasting operation, pushed costs to more than 20% of the original estimate by Hardesty & Hanover of New York.

Alderman Ray Kozielek urged city officials to exert further efforts to persuade state highway authorities to install traffic signals at McCambridge avenue and Edwardsville road.

He said another service station, recently opened in the area, is causing additional traffic congestion, with motorists using an adjacent alleyway as a thoroughfare to avoid the intersection. Kozielek added that teenage drivers are speeding through the narrow alleys, adding to the hazards.

Mayor Maeras suggested that 15 miles-an-hour signs be erected in the alley and said increased police patrols through the area may deter the speeders. He also agreed to arrange a meeting with the district highway engineer.

The mayor mentioned the possibility of widening McCambridge from Edwardsville road to Second street.

Kozielek commented that since the Poplar street bridge opened, traffic through the intersection appears to have increased. He said another traffic count by the highway division might indicate a considerable difference in volume since the initial tally.

Problems of junked motors and auto parts littering a yard in the 1800 block of Market street and unsightly property in the 1600 block of Third street were brought to the attention of council members in a summary report prepared by the city building inspector, who recommended condemnation proceedings against several property owners.

Other dwellings, vacant lots and sheds in dilapidated condition were listed and referred to the legal department for appropriate action.

The report said that proper sanitation facilities are lacking at a food stand, which also allegedly has debris in the rear and substandard wiring. The inspector urged that the owners be required to comply with health and building regulations.

Special importance was placed on the number of old refrigerators standing in vacant houses, into which a child could climb and suffocate should the door close. Owners of such equipment should remove all doors on unused appliances to prevent this type of tragedy, Mayor Maeras said.

Firemen were called to extinguish a weed fire in the old cemetery in East Granite about 9:10 p.m. Tuesday. No damage was reported.

MORE ABOUT Venice, EOC

Several lots owned by the city will be provided with drainage, a blacktopped ball court area and a sprinkling system.

The city is providing all of the expense for the playground area. A long pipe, pierced with holes, will be installed the length of the area, and will be connected with a fire plug to provide showers for youngsters during a specified schedule to be announced later.

A mobile swimming pool will be installed behind Lee Wright homes and instructors will be provided to teach swimming. Youngsters have been assisting Venice Alderman Charles Hampton in excavation work for the pool and it is expected to be installed within the next week. The pool will be four feet deep and will require life-guards for the periods it is in use.

The pool will be provided by the EOC and is the only one of its kind in the area, according to Hampton, because of the willingness of the city of Venice to help the program financially.

Firemen Shut Off Gas

Granite City firemen were called at 3:50 p.m. Monday to the home of Homer Brown, 2148 Benton street, where they turned off a gas line to the furnace and hot water tank after the basement was flooded.

The high gusting winds played havoc with trees and telephone and power lines, particularly in Granite City, where broken branches and a heavy rain knocked out an estimated 250 telephones in the northeast section of the community. Lines also were reported down in the 1300 block of Edwardsville road.

A Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. spokesman said that between 200 and 250 individual phones were placed temporarily out of commission due to cable damage. Service was restored to all patrons by 8 p.m., he added.

Illinois Power officials said that electrical service was interrupted in various parts of the Quad-Cities for short periods of time. Five transformers received direct lightning strikes and the units had to be replaced by special crews which completed all repair work by 10:30 p.m.

A company spokesman commented that no set pattern existed in the areas where service was interrupted, which occurred in isolated sections, stretching from Eagle Park Acres to the Bellemore area.

"On the whole, we were very fortunate to escape with so little damage," he said, adding that for a short time the high winds could have accomplished much more damage that was experienced.

World, National Champions in 7th Annual River Races Here on Sunday

The excitement and thrills of competing high-speed hydroplane and runabout racing craft, piloted by international and national champions, will be offered to area boat racing enthusiasts at 1 p.m. Sunday, when the Granite City Kiwanis and Bowline Boat club co-sponsor their seventh annual boat races on the Mississippi River near the Hartford Canal.

Keen competition is anticipated from championship racing drivers, who will gather at the riverbank race site from states as distant as North Dakota, Kansas and Iowa.

Both amateur and professional drivers are expected to contend in the mid-summer racing classic.

Heading up the contenders for more than $600 in prize money and trophies will be World Champion Billy Seebold Jr., formerly of Granite City, whose exploits in national and international boat racing competition have been viewed by millions via television's "Wide World of Sports" programs.

Providing the local defending champion "plenty of action" this year will be top drivers—Jerry Simson of Fargo, N. Dak., international and national champion; Walter Courtis of St. Louis, national professional amateur champion; and Jim Schock of Quincy and John Wood of St. Louis, both national champions.

Kiwanis-Bowline Boat club races on the Mississippi River near the Hartford Canal. Runabouts, shown in photo, and hydroplanes will compete in the 1 p.m. races.

Pistol Tournament at Local Club Saturday

An 1800 pistol tournament will be held Saturday, July 13, sponsored by the John N. Marshall Gun Club, on the club grounds. The first relay will begin at 8 a.m. The three-gun match is National Rifle Association approved.

Those who wish to enter need not be a member of the NRA. Awards, trophies and cash prizes will be presented. Entrants may call Don Ballard at 877-5288 or the range officer, Bob Carroll, at 797-0471.

One minute prior to the race, drivers will jockey for advantageous positions, taking care not to cross the starting line, which would result in disqualification. Dougherty said that simultaneously with firing of the one-minute signals, a white flag is displayed and a huge clock on the judge's stand begins ticking off the last minute before the start. The clock can easily be seen by the boat drivers as they make skillful maneuvers in approaching the starting line.

Drivers time the speed of their engines so that they can cross the starting line at the precise second the clock hand strikes the last second of the final minute. The white flag is flashed downward and the race is on, Dougherty said.

As a safety precaution, once a driver enters the "shoot," an area approximately 500 feet before the starting line and marked with a red and white buoy, he must drive in a straight line toward the start and cannot turn right or left. This rule protects other drivers who are concentrating on the clock as they approach the racing field, he added.

Food and beverage concession stands will be operated by the two clubs at the race site, the chairman said, adding that tall trees line the riverbank at the meet location, providing shade for families wishing to picnic.

In previous years, many spectators have arrived in the area during the morning hours to observe the drivers testing their boats before the p.m. starting time, they said.

Proceeds derived from the racing event will be used to further programs sponsored by the Bowline boat club and to furnish funds for benefit projects supported by the Kiwanis, including the Spastic Paralysis Research Foundation, a major charitable enterprise of the Illinois-Eastern Iowa district of Kiwanis International, plus youth work in the Quad-City area.

Model Rocket Meet July 29

The Model Rocketry Society of Granite City will hold a model rocket launch meet Saturday, July 29. Students from the Quad-City area are being invited to enter and display their models and equipment. The meet is to be held on the Coolidge junior high school grounds, with registration beginning at 10 a.m. and the competition getting under way at noon.

Prizes will be awarded for building skills and attention to detail, parachute flight duration and drag racing. All contestants will be judged according to National Association of Rocketry rules.

Best model will be judged on building skills and attention to detail. This event will have two age groups, 14-17 and 18-and-under. Persons 18 and over are invited to bring their models for demonstration but will not have a judged competition.

Parachute flight duration is open to ages 17 and under and will be divided into two classes according to engine size, Class A and B. Models must have one and one-half engine and one parachute. They will be judged on parachute time only, from the time the chute is deployed until touching down.

Drag racing, also will be divided in two classifications, Class A and B. Entrants 17 and under. Points will be given for the first entry to achieve motion, the lowest altitude and the entry which touches the ground last.

Model rocketry is described by the organization as "the thrill and excitement of the countdown . . . pressing the launch control switch . . . watching the rocket streak skyward . . . following the vapor trail as the "bird" shrinks to just a speck . . . awaiting the recovery skyward . . . and watching the parachute blossom out for a safe return of the rocket, setting the stage for still another flight."

2 Records Set By Paddlers Against Alton

The Paddlers swim club of Granite City was able to complete over half its events in a conference meet here Tuesday evening as weather forced postponement of the remaining events until today. The opposition was Summersport of Alton, which Paddlers beat for the first time in nine years last weekend in the conference relay.

Paddlers led at the break Tuesday 205-168. The meet will be resumed today at 6 p.m. when the teams will finish the backstroke event and hold butterfly and freestyle competition.

Dick Van Hook, coach of the local team said, "It is in our first time in nine years that we can match them in all remaining classes. It should be an interesting finish."

Wm. R. Kindie, 82, Dies at Nursing Home

Under state law the protest forms given the town collector will be sent to the office of County Treasurer John Maeras when the Namekoki tax books are delivered there. Prior to the annual tax sale, usually held in December, Maeras will obtain judgments in circuit court in the amount of taxes involved in the protests. An interim period for hearing of tax objections is then set by the court.

In filing the tax protests, objectors paid their tax bills in full, but protested only that amount of taxes resulting from the 25% assessment increase.

Both township and county tax officials said yesterday that it is the first instance of extensive tax objections by individuals that they can recall in many years. County officials said occasional objections by smaller taxpayers are received, but these usually are from scattered parts of the county and in very small numbers.

MORE ABOUT Tax Protests

to 25%; also were ordered for other townships.

Filing of tax objections was spearheaded by the Wildlife Improvement Association, many members of which sought individual hearings before the review board when the assessment increase was ordered.

The review board, however, declined to conduct a long scheduled series of hearings because of the press of time in meeting State Revenue Department demands for the valuation adjustment for Madison county.

Filed Tax Cases
Michael Ropic, president of the Wildlife association, said several representatives of the association then filed appeals to the recently created State Tax Appeals Board as test cases. Rulings were received recently in which the state board held that the Namekoki objectors had not utilized all local protest resources.

Ropic said members of the association obtained standard tax objections forms which they filed with the Namekoki town collector at the time they paid their 1967 tax bills.

Rotter's office estimated there are 20 to 25 objections now on file. Ropic said more will be filed with the county treasurer when the township books are returned to that office and collections resumed. Collections made by the county treasurer also will involve a penalty of 1% per month as long as taxes remain unpaid.

Court Sets Hearings
Under state law the protest forms given the town collector will be sent to the office of County Treasurer John Maeras when the Namekoki tax books are delivered there. Prior to the annual tax sale, usually held in December, Maeras will obtain judgments in circuit court in the amount of taxes involved in the protests. Kevin Pryor, 12, Wins In Men's Skeet Shooting

Kevin Pryor, 12, of 1712 Ferguson avenue, is fast becoming known as an outstanding skeet shooter, especially for his age, having won 23 major trophies in many different championship contests.

He and his father, Wilbur Pryor, just attended the United Sportsman Club in Jefferson City, Mo., this week at which time Kevin shot and won the Class E in the men's division. His father won in the Class C, and they entered the two-man team event placing first.

Three weeks ago they traveled to Cleveland, Tenn., where young Pryor won the sub-junior championship in the 12-gauge shotgun division and also placed first in the junior championship which also was in the 12-gauge division.

During the past few months, the young man has entered and won distinction in the sub-junior championship held at Lewis and Clark Open held at West Alton, Mo., and the sub-junior championship in St. Louis Open conducted at Pacific, Mo.

He is now shooting an average of 85 out of 100. The next event the Pryors plan to attend will be the World Championship Skeet Shooting to be held on July 27 at Kansas City, Kan.

Tax Collectors Report Payments Same as Year Ago

Collection of 1967 taxes in Granite City and Venice townships are running about the same as last year, collectors of the two areas reported today.

E. R. "Pat" Rich, Granite City treasurer, said his office has received payments totaling $508,296, while collections by Venice Township Collector Frank Redelberger Jr. amounted to $372,981 for the same period.

Both Granite City and Venice began tax collections on the same day, June 24.

Rich said today his office will continue local tax collections through Aug. 22, providing a tax collection period of about five days shorter than the customary 80-day period.

Redelberger announced his office in the old bank building at Fourth street and Madison avenue, in Madison, will continue collections at the close of the day's business at 3 p.m. July 31.

Collect 0% So Far

According to Rich, collections at his office as of yesterday included $408,223 in real estate taxes and $101,973 in personal property taxes.

This is only 0% of the total of $7,538,267 charged for collection in Granite City for the 1967 tax year, but this is not unusual

Carburetor Backfire Causes $1000 Auto Blaze

A carburetor backfire was blamed for a blaze that caused $1000 damage to the 1965 auto of John Falk, 2167 Lynch avenue, early this morning on the Granite City Steel Co. lot at 20th and Nash streets.

Firemen answered the alarm at 12:45 a.m. today.

Auto-Truck Accident

An Illinois Power Co. truck operated by Steven Fack, 2106 Cottage avenue, who was making a left turn off Nameoki road to enter Nameoki Village shopping center, was involved in a collision Wednesday afternoon with an auto driven south by George Miller, 4841 Warnock avenue.

because most of the large industrial tax bills are not paid until near the end of the collection period.

In Venice, the collection of $372,981 is 14% of a total tax charge of $2,727,328 due this year.

Last year Granite City taxpayers were billed for payment of $7,272,785, while Venice township taxpayers were charged with payment of $2,767,152.

Nameoki and Chouteau townships have completed their 1967 collections. Chouteau Collector Charles Lexow has completed balancing of his books while Nameoki Township Collector Gene Rotter is nearing completion of his books.

Alton May Get Two Locks to Match One at Canal Here

Col. Edwin R. Decker, District Engineer, U. S. Army Engineer District, St. Louis, announced today that new navigation structures to replace the outdated system at Alton, are being tested on a hydraulic model at the U. S. Army Waterways Experiment Station at Vicksburg, Miss.

This is the first time and place where two 1200-foot locks have been proposed for inland waters. The first 1200-foot lock; largest in the western hemisphere was built here and opened in 1953.

New concepts in lock design are being studied.

One study consists of an offset and separated arrangement of the locks that will permit a tow to enter one of the locks while another tow is coming out of the other lock. This will eliminate the normal experience at adjacent locks where one tow has to wait for clearance for any traffic using one lock before it can enter and leave the other lock. New facilities at the site of the existing structure and a new site about two miles downstream are being model tested.

River traffic has increased rapidly since the completion of the lock and dam system to provide a nine-foot navigation channel between St. Louis and Minneapolis.

Beyond Capacity This Year

Since 1938, when the project was put in operation, river traffic has increased to the extent that it is expected to exceed the capacity of the existing main lock this year. The existing main lock is 110 by 600 feet and the smaller auxiliary lock is 110 by 360 feet. The existing facilities are also in need of considerable rehabilitation.

The model reproduces a six-mile section of the Mississippi River to a scale of one foot on the model which equals 120 feet in nature. All of the predominating forces of nature—such as currents, velocities, discharges, eddies—are duplicated. Time is telescoped so that conditions which occur in nature over a 24-hour period are reproduced on the model in a little over two hours.

After the model was molded in concrete and pea gravel to the same configuration as the river bed, it was verified to known conditions before the testing of the proposed new structures was begun.

Analysis for Design

Analysis of the model data

will serve as a positive means for checking the merits of the design and for devising modifications to it if difficulties are encountered which were not anticipated at the time of the original design.

If alterations are indicated, these can be made more quickly and economically in a model than on the full-size structure. Behavior of the structures under a long period of time and under a wide range of conditions will be predicted on the model.

The St. Louis District is responsible for the design, construction and operation of the new navigation structures proposed. The model study at the Waterways Experiment Station supplements the theoretical knowledge, judgment and experience of the design engineers in order to produce the most economical and best design possible.

This vast laboratory and research complex at Vicksburg has about 65 or 70 models in operation of civil works projects of the Corps of Engineers for developing and improving our inland waterways, protecting harbors from storm waves, preventing excessive silting in estuaries, testing flood control remedial measures, and related projects.

University Tuition Hike Under Study

An annual tuition hike of $75 at all Illinois public universities and colleges is under study of the Illinois Higher Board of Education, it was announced yesterday.

The board also is considering a proposal to raise out-of-state tuition rates by $100 per year, beginning in 1969 until out-of-state students pay a major part or all of the cost of their education.

The combined tuition-fee charge at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus is now $241.50. A study points out that tuition charges in Illinois schools have risen 230% during the 1947-1967 period.

$500 Auto Blaze

Varied Assistance

Mrs. Ruby Overbeck, executive secretary, reported 244 transactions in May and 308 in June, including emergency leave reports, leave extensions, health - welfare, Job Corps, assistance with government benefits, financial assistance, counseling, information and other services.

It was noted that 77 attended the annual meeting of the chapter June 4 at the Army Depot. The board was informed that President Lyndon B. Johnson, honorary chairman, has appointed E. Roland Harriman to a seventh three-year term as chairman and principal officer of the American National Red Cross.

Attorney General Ramsey Clark is honorary counselor and Treasury Secretary Henry H. Fowler is honorary treasurer of the Red Cross.

If all the investigations were placed end to end they would never reach a conclusion.

Groshong Says Vote Contest Unfounded

Marion Groshong of Venice, re-elected as Republican committeeman of Precinct One in Venice township during the June 11 primary, declared today that charges of fraud in the tallying of votes in an election contest filed in circuit court "is an unjust and slanderous accusation in a political move that will have no legal standing in court."

The official canvass of the Precinct One vote gave Groshong 19 votes and John Mangiaricino, a write-in candidate, eight votes.

"In the first place," Groshong stated, "Mangiaricino is a registered Democrat. He was a candidate on the ballot for the Democratic committeeman post in Precinct One and was defeated by Walter Simmons by a vote of 271 to 32."

"Mangiaricino did not vote in the primary election. His wife voted Republican. Mangiaricino appeared at the polling place to serve as a Republican challenger with credentials signed by C. W. 'Bill' Burns, who was running on the Republican ticket for county recorder of deeds."

SCHOLARSHIP PLAN STUDIED BY CLUB

The Venetian Tops club held its weekly meeting Monday evening at the Venice library. Mrs. Jeannette Woodrume, leader, called the group to order; with the members repeating the Tops pledge and the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

Roll call was taken by Mrs. Mary Fanster, weight recorder, and penalties were given for weight gains.

Queen of the week was Mrs. Virginia Cochran and queen of the month of June was Mrs. Norma Raines.

Mrs. Earline Cook was awarded a charm for a 25-pound weight loss.

A scholarship fund for Venice students entering college was discussed. A committee was appointed to further study the proposal. Those serving on the committee are Miss Evie Ritz and Mesdames Shirley Watkins, Annette Ahrens, Mary Walsh, Bernice Komosa, Ila Bauer and Roseann Bergbrader.

All members are being urged to attend the next meeting July 15 to vote on the scholarship fund.

Other members present were Miss Janet Burlingame and Mesdames Eileen Robinson, Ann Welch, Lora Hollis, Donna Key and Carol Williams.

ENTERTAINS CLUB

The Yak Yak club met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Ina Campbell of Granite City.

Games were played and prizes were awarded.

The members welcomed a guest for the evening, Miss Clara Beth Simmons.

Refreshments were served to the above and Mesdames Margaret Stover, Estella Bone, Beulah Sizemore, Ethel Moore, Faye Smith, Helen Annis, Kay Dynas and Kate Syniak.

Next meeting will be July 22 at the home of Mrs. Dynas.

LEGION, AUXILIARY DIVISION CONVENTION

The American Legion and Auxiliary of Venice-Medison Post 307 attended a Fifth Division convention ending Sunday at Post 292 in Mascoutah.

The group returned home Monday-morning following the discussion meetings and business sessions.

Those attending were Miss Dorothy Hinson, Kenneth Hinson, Mr. and Mrs. John Hillmer, Mr. and Mrs. John Brinks and Mesdames Estella Bone, Beulah Sizemore, Ina Campbell, Faye Smith, Thelma Gonterman and Pearl Meyer.

Airman first-class Jerry Devany, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Devany, 525 Jefferson avenue arrived home Wednesday on an 18-day leave.

He graduated from a technical school Tuesday and will leave later this month for Austin, Tex., for further training in photography.

Airman first-class Steve Thomas of Granite City, who is home on leave from a Mountain Home, Ida., has been a frequent guest at the Devany home. The two enlisted together.

State Financial Problems First On Assembly List

A bill authorizing Illinois finance officials to borrow $60 millions from surpluses of the motor fuel tax fund to help the state cover current financial difficulties will be among the first order of business as the Illinois General Assembly reconvenes Monday in Springfield.

Gov. Samuel Shapiro said yesterday the plan was agreed upon between leaders of both political parties in a series of three conferences called when it became apparent that the state soon would be facing a critical financial crisis.

By borrowing the money from the motor fuel tax, which customarily carries a surplus of from $70 to $80 millions, an increase in state taxes will not be required during the rest of this biennium, the governor said.

But, he added, the state still will run about $127 million in the red and there will be a delay of capital improvements on state projects. Gov. Shapiro said there will be a general "tightening of the belt." Departmental directors have been told not to hire new employees except on an emergency basis and to buy no new equipment unless it also is needed on an emergency basis.

Service Tax Killed

The state financial problem resulted when the courts held unconstitutional the extension of the service occupation tax in several areas, a program designed to provide a $100 million in state income. Adding to the problem was legislative repeal of changes in state inheritance tax laws designed to bring in more money.

The bill when it is introduced in the legislature next week will have bipartisan support and will provide that the money be repaid to the fund by June 30, 1971.

Gov. Shapiro said that he intends to appear before a joint session of the General Assembly Monday. He is expected to outline his anti-crisis program at that time.

The House and Senate also will act on a series of several hundred bills introduced during a two-day special session last March.

To get a good job, get a good education

Published as a public service in cooperation with The Advertising Council

Drop out of school now and that's what they'll call you all your working life

Nobody looks down on a man with a good education. People respect him. They treat him right because they know he's got what it takes. You know it. Everybody knows it. A good education always shows. And so does a small education. Which will you have?

Remember: respect is only one of the things a good education gets you. It can also get you a good job. A good salary. And a real chance to enjoy more of the good things in life. So if you're in school now... stay there! Learn all you can for as long as you can. It can really make a difference.

If you're out of school, don't give up. You can still get plenty of valuable training outside the classroom. And it's well worth the effort.

Grants Getting Ready For Grand Opening

Employees at the W. T. Grant Co. store in Nameoki Village shopping center are "keeping the store open" while preparing for the grand opening of the newly enlarged store building late this month.

Melvin Gillie, manager, said not only the footwear department, but also most other departments are being revamped. "We'll be ready, though, for a grand opening sale late this month."

The local manager noted it was only a few days ago that William T. Grant observed his 94th birthday. He was the founder of the chain of stores and opened the first store with $1000 savings on Dec. 6, 1906, on the ground floor of the "new YMCA building" in Lynn, Mass., featuring 25-cent items.

"We didn't make our grand opening for the founder's birthday, but we're coming close enough," Gillie remarked. With his retirement on his 90th birthday, Grant set up the Grant Foundation, Inc., and engaged in activities to assist the healthy emotional development of children and youth. Funds exceeding a million dollars annually are being made to training programs, research and demonstrations, public education and youth services related to the field of mental health.

Year-Long 'Save Our Sight' Drive Launched

A year-long campaign, "Save Our Sight," is being launched here and throughout the state by the over 900 members of the Illinois Optometric Association to combat the rising number of persons with faulty vision, it was announced today.

Dr. Stanley F. Marx, Dr. Leo A. Roman and Dr. Benjamin T. Rose of Granite City are among those serving on a speakers' bureau to acquaint the public with vision danger signs and proper eye care.

Factors considered in the decision to conduct the special campaign included increases in school dropouts due to poor vision, a rise in motor vehicle accidents linked to visual impairment of drivers, and instances of improper care of eyes.

Career Opportunities

IOA Executive Secretary Edwin A. Moll also is stressing an increasing need for students to adopt optometry as their profession due to the population explosion. Young men and women with career questions may write for details to the Illinois Optometric Association, 211 East Chicago Avenue, Suite 1201, Chicago, Ill. 60611.

Facts cited by the association members in urging greater public awareness of vision problems include:

While over 80% of all school tasks are based on vision, about half of all grade school children have some form of visual handicap.

Early Care Important
Some eye problems could be corrected if caught in time, emphasizing the need for vision danger signs to be detected promptly.

Over 10% of those failing driver vision examinations can have their problems corrected so that they can pass the tests, if they follow specified advice and guidance.

Viewing of television is not harmful if necessary rules are followed, but children are frequent violators of such precautions.

Promising athletes often drop sports activities because of eye trouble which could be corrected.

Scholarships and loans are available to help optometric career applicants needing financial assistance.

Board Committee To Recommend Disposal Program

Recommendations to the county board of supervisors as to a method of garbage and trash disposal to be followed by the county will be drafted in a meeting of the board's sanitation committee at Edwardsville next Monday night, Carl Buehler, Granite City assistant supervisor and chairman of the committee, said today.

Buehler said he called the committee session following a special meeting of the county board of supervisors Monday in which several alternate plans to put the county into the garbage and trash disposal business were outlined by representatives of Horner & Shifrin, consulting engineering firm.

The committee's recommendation will be presented to the county board in its regular session next Wednesday.

F. E. Wisely of the consulting firm told the board Monday that the engineering report concerning methods of solid waste disposal actually is part of a three-county study being financed partly by federal funds, and that any action proposed by Madison county should await completion of the report. When completed, probably by next March, the study will include plans for St. Clair and Monroe counties as well as Madison county, Wisely said.

Need Is Immediate

But Buehler replied that he feels Madison county is confronted with the necessity of immediate action in solving its waste disposal problem and that it cannot wait for St. Clair and Monroe counties to decide on the steps they will take. This, he said, would result in a two-year delay. Madison county's problem is immediate, he added.

Buehler said most county board members are agreed that the county must get into the disposal business, but issues have been raised over the method to be followed.

The Horner & Shifrin report suggests a number of different plans, all financed by bond issues. The board wants to make a decision in time to call a bond referendum in connection with the Nov. 5 general election.

Two plans recommended by the engineering firm are receiving the most attention. One calls for establishment of three landfills in various parts of the county at a cost of more than $3 millions. The other calls for establishment of one county landfill and installation of an incinerator at a cost of more than $7 millions.

Lists Eight Plans
In all, the survey lists eight different plans. All are combinations of landfill or incinerator programs. One plan is for operation of an $8-million incinerator system.

Buehler said one major advantage of a county-operated disposal system would be that the county could set regulations for its control and see that it was operated properly.

"If we decided we didn't want anyone for out-of-county using the county system, then we could see to it that they didn't," Buehler commented.

Rotarians Hear about Alton's PRIDE, Inc.

Jack Barban, executive director of Pride, Incorporated, Alton, was the featured speaker at the weekly meeting of the Rotary Club, Tuesday, at the YMCA.

He spoke on the organization of Pride, which is a non-profit group dedicated to the promotion of beautification in all areas of the 18 communities surrounding the Alton Lake. Barban said that three years ago, Dr. Gordon Moore, an Alton surgeon and a civic-minded person, along with other interested citizens, got together and formed Pride. They went to the people to raise $85,000 to operate Pride for three years, on the premise that if Pride could not justify its work and did not do the job, Pride would fold up and go out of business.

In order to attack the problems in the Alton area, 12 working committees were set up, each designed to promote beautification projects in specific areas. They include the Alton Lake, Bath Memorial Park, Commerce and Industry, Education, Great River road, Highway Beautification, Home Owners and Renters, Lovejoy Hall of Fame, Lovejoy Monument, Memorials, Project Study Group and Service Organizations.

Arthur Koerper, served as club president in the absence of Warren Decatur, for the business session. Walter Milton was the program chairman for this meeting and Ralph Morris will arrange the program for the next meeting.

Stage Development Planned at New Port Proposed on Canal Here

New port facilities at the north end of the Chain of Rocks Canal to serve new industry as it develops in the 9000-acre Lewis and Clark Industrial park just north of Granite City could be built in several stages as economically justified by industrial growth, according to a new detailed engineering plan prepared for Union Electric Co. by Horner & Shiffin, engineering consultants.

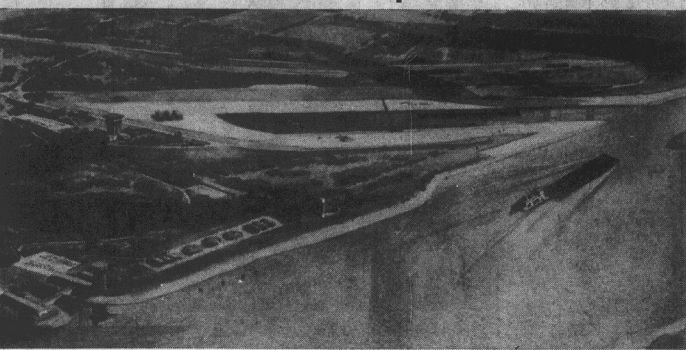

The new port, when and if it is built, would be operated by the Tri-City Regional Port Authority of Granite City which already operates extensive docking, loading and unloading facilities for liquid commodities at the harbor cut out on the canal north of the canal locks.

While construction of the proposed new port is contingent upon location in the Industrial Park of new industry which would require river transportation, plans have been prepared in advance of even development of the area, anticipated on a vast scale by area industrial, civic and business leaders. Union Electric Co. is one of several utilities and railroad lines who own the 9000 acres that make up the Industrial Park in Chouteau, Nameoki and Venice township.

Would Construct Harbor
The report prescribes a tentative Harbor Plan with related railroad, highway and truck terminal facilities that would constitute an integral part of the industrial area, located east of and contiguous with the upper end of the canal on the Mississippi opposite the confluence of the Missouri and Mississippi rivers.

Maximum development of the harbor plan would involve an expenditure of $3.3 million, but the report notes that "it is not likely that the maximum development plan could be financed or be economically justified when the first industry seeks to locate in the industrial park . . . therefore a plan must be available which will permit minimum cost, and stage developments to provide facilities as they are needed."

Minimum cost for the first stage of development, providing a harbor extending inland for about 2400 feet, would be about $700,000, the study shows. The land on which the proposed harbor facility would be located is owned by the federal government, of which the Army Corps of Engineers is the administrative agency. Because the Tri-City Port Authority is a public agency and is appropriately constituted to use the federally-owned land in the public

SKETCH OF PROPOSED new port facilities to be built at north end of Chain of Rocks canal to serve 9000-acre industrial park. Installation centers around harbor construction, shown near top of photo. Storage tanks for liquid products and warehouses for bulk commodities are illustrated. Con-viding a harbor extending inland from the canal for 1400 lineal feet.

For 2400-Foot Harbor
The plan for a $1.2 million development would, result in excavation of 600,000 cubic yards for a harbor extending 2400 feet inland.

The third proposed stage of development would cost $1 million and would call for excavation of 1.2 million cubic yards; the fourth stage would call for 1.5 million cubic yards of excavation at a cost of $2.4 million, and the fifth and final stage for full development, including a shore harbor, would require 2.2 million cubic yards of excavation and cost $3.3 million.

Liquid handling facilities would provide for the transfer of petroleum products and all manner of liquid chemicals with appropriate pipelines, transfer points to and from rail, truck and barge and with adequate tank storage, the study relates. Bulk handling facilities would contemplate handling of coal, rock products, ores and the transfer and storage facilities would provide for servicing the three modes of transportation available at the site.

Sp/5 Sterns Gets Medal for Rescue From Mine Field

Sp/5 Gerald L. Sterns, U. S. Army 50th Medical Detachment, 43rd Medical Group, 44th Medical Brigade, was awarded the soldiers medal in Vietnam for heroism not involving actual conflict with an armed enemy.

The citation reads — "Sp/5 Sterns distinguished himself by valorous actions on Dec. 27, 1967, as a medic of a medical evacuation helicopter conducting a rescue mission near Tuy Hoa."

"A Vietnamese woman had been critically injured when she entered the mine field surrounding Tuy Hoa subarea headquarters compound and detonated one of the mines."

"Sp/5 Sterns volunteered to be lowered by hoist into the mine field to extract the woman despite the danger of detonating other mines. He was positioned over the limp body with pin point accuracy and cautiously maneuvered his arms under the patient."

"He then raised the woman into his arms with one concentrated movement and both were lifted into the hovering helicopter."

City Clean Air Board to Hold Public Hearing

Granite City's Air Pollution Control plans a public hearing in September to determine if local industries intend to expand present emission reduction programs for compliance with anticipated process weight limits, as suggested by the state.

A decision for the public hearing was made during Monday night's meeting of the city board at the city hall with Henry Bielecki, chairman, presiding.

Bielecki pointed out that federal standards are expected to be adopted by the state, and the board agreed that local industries should include such eventually. "We want the public to know what is going on, and that the city's board is preparing for the future."

Date to be announced.

Time, date and place for the public hearing will be announced in the near future. It is the city board members' plan for state and federal clean air officials also to be present.

Dr. Irwin H. Parrill, SIU-SW professor and acting technical secretary for the board during the summer absence of Prof. Erwin Hoelscher, reported on the red oxide program and said he believed Granite City Steel Co. was making "progressive and reasonable efforts to control the dust."

Trucks with special sealed bodies are to be in operation in about two weeks to haul the dust from the basic oxygen furnaces to the landfill, he reported, adding that Granite City Steel also has installed automatic and manual systems to water down the red dust at the plant.

Impressed with Progress

"The problem is not completely solved, but I was impressed with the progress and effort toward preventing another emission such as occurred on April 17, Dr. Parrill told board members."

The technical secretary said two recent efficiency tests at the BOP precipitators, conducted by the manufacturer, showed 99.9% efficiency of operation. Dr. Parrill added that he had spent a day at the plant and talked to the crews, who are being given detailed instructions on all operations. He added that he was not yet ready to challenge the efficiency report.

Board members called for more information on the baghouse operation planned for the electric furnaces to replace open furnaces at American Steel Foundries. Dr. Parrill said the baghouse operation should be in excess of present requirements.

Seek Revisions

The commissioners voted to return the program submitted by Granite City Steel Co. for revision, and voted partial approval of the program submitted by Union Starch & Refining Co.

The firm plans to adjust operations of its boilers during a trial period to extend to Oct. 1. If that is not satisfactory, fuel will be changed or emission collector equipment will be installed.

In concluding its meeting, the board directed Dr. Parrill to inspect the incinerator at Maryland-Bi-Rite Market, Ponton road and Franklin avenue, and then to confer with Prof. Hoelscher. The installation had been approved by the technical secretary, it was pointed out.

Commissioners present were Mrs. Melvin Freedman, Theodore Maclos, Sidney Womack, Alderman Samuel Whitmer, Lance Callis and Bielecki.

Suit Is Filed to Reverse Groshong Precinct Victory

Marion R. Groshong, Venice township (Venice-Madison) Republican chairman, was defeated for re-election as a committeeman in the June 11 primary election, a circuit court suit filed Tuesday afternoon alleges.

The official canvass gave Groshong 18 votes and Mangiaracino, a write-in candidate, eight votes for GOP committeeman of Venice township Precinct One.

Twenty-one plaintiffs, represented by Attorney Dick H. Mudge Jr., allege in the suit that they voted for Mangiaracino for the Republican precinct office.

The canvass was based on poll tally books. Under the suit, the ballot bag could be opened and the actual ballots inspected and counted.

Ballot bags are retained for such purposes for a period of 30 days after the June 19 canvass, and filing of the suit this week assures that the Venice Precinct One ballots will be preserved until the suit is decided.

Also in Democratic Race

Each petitioner says that he or she cast a valid vote for Mangiaracino in the unannounced effort to unseat Groshong.

Mangiaracino was on the Democratic ballot in opposition to Madison County Democratic Chairman Walter "Buck" Simmons, who was re-elected as Precinct One committeeman by a 27-32 margin.

It is necessary to hold a committeeman position in order to also serve as a township or county party chairman.

The suit relates that "petitioners believe that a mistake or fraud has been committed and, in either event, 13 legal votes cast for John Mangiaracino have not been included in the official canvass by the Madison County Canvassing Board. As a result, the defendant has been illegally and erroneously declared to be the winner," it is contended.

The court is asked to order a recount to determine the winner of the Groshong-Mangiaracino contest.

Army Needs Missile Systems Repairmen

Sgt. Harold Pratte, local Army recruiter, today announced there are openings in the U. S. Army for young men who are interested in becoming a part of the space-age world of electronics. A high priority has been given to finding young men eligible for training as Combat Missile Systems repairmen.

Such repairmen inspect, test and perform maintenance, calibration and repair on Redeye, Tow and Shillelagh missile systems, Sgt. Pratte explained. They must know theory, function and operations of the systems and how to use test equipment to discover where problems exist. The CMS specialist then moves in to repair or replace the broken part and place the system back in operational condition.

The recruiter noted that among the requirements is ability to reason out a situation and determine the cause of a malfunction, plus the mathematical ability to solve electronic formula. He also will need practice in expressing himself as he must explain systems and operations to newer repairmen.

New Buildings Planned At Illinois State U.

A new library, science building and college of business are the major components of a $37.3 million capital improvements budget approved by the Board of Regents for the 1969-70 biennium at Illinois State University, Normal.

The Illinois Board of Higher Education will next review the budget, along with those from other universities in the state, and make its recommendations to the Legislature.

The budget is the largest in history for Illinois State, which combat missile systems repair course, is not only a fine occupation for a career serviceman, but has wide application in civilian life, Sgt. Pratte said. He pointed out the course leads to civilian jobs such as electrical equipment tester of repairman, or Federal civil service classifications as guided missile inspector or repairman.

For further information about the missile repair course or more than 300 other Army technical schools of instruction, those interested may contact Sgt. Pratte, at the local area Army recruitment office, 1340 Niedringhaus avenue.

has a capital appropriation for the present biennium amounting to $16.2 million. The total figures do not include bond revenue-financed buildings, such as residence halls, student unions and athletic facilities.

New buildings proposed for ISU comprise the largest single division in the budget at $27.7 million. Land acquisition totals $2.8 million; movable equipment, $2.2 million; site work, $1.9 million; utilities, $1.7 million; planning funds, $900,000, and city-university cooperative projects, $164,515, and remodeling $1,862,000.

The proposed library, first of two phases, would be the largest single project at an estimated $11 million. The first of a three-phase science building is budgeted at $9.7 million; the college of business building at $5.2 million; physical plant building, $1.6 million, and equipment of South Mall Art Building, $570,000.

University officials said the new library is needed to accommodate ISU's rapidly growing student body and that it would be unwise to continue building additions to 28-year-old Milner Library. All of the new buildings would probably be located to the north of the main campus.

Almeda Lahr Enrolled At Americas University 8 Band Students At SIU's Camp

Almeda Lahr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy M. Lahr, 330 Lenox avenue, Mitchell, is enrolled this summer at the University of the Americas, located in Mexico City. During the regular school year, she is a student at Southern Illinois University majoring in Spanish and music.

Because students at the University of the Americas are not only from the U. S. but from more than 40 other countries, the school plays a distinctive role in intercultural and international education. It is accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools and has a larger enrollment of American students than any other liberal arts school abroad.

Classes are taught in English by an internationally trained faculty. However, practically all students learn Spanish, not only in the classroom but through their association with the people of Mexico. Most reside in college-approved private Mexican homes, resulting in greater familiarity with the customs and everyday lives of their hosts.

Miss Lahr, a graduate of Granite City high school, reports her intellectual perspective widened by her venture into an environment in which glass-walled skyscrapers stand within a few miles of ancient pyramids.

Whether attending the folklore ballet or the bullfight, visiting Aztec remains or art exhibits, listening to mariachi music or symphony concerts, students enrolled at the University of the Americas find Eight local high school students are among the 171 registered for a two-week camp, "Music and Youth at Southern," now under way at Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, to run to July 20.

The camp features study for each student in his special instrument and they will be given an opportunity to participate in the larger organizations (band, chorus and orchestra) which are led by guest directors. Academic study is offered in music appreciation, theory, conducting, science of music, small ensembles and stage band.

Local students attending are George M. Burris, 2604 Sheridan avenue; Janice Chandler, 2004 Dogwood drive; Russell H. Gertsch, 1614 Gaifield avenue; Terry Hulse, 2904 Fortune drive; Elizabeth Ann Ledbetter, 3216 Harvard place; Laura McCommis, 2919 Benton street; Dennis Meyer, 2004 St. Clair street and Angela Epperson, 2704 State street.

The piano students will give a recital July 20 at 3:30 p.m. in the University Ballroom at the University Center. A final concert by band, chorus, and orchestra will be given at the Ballroom, July 20 at 7:30 p.m. Both concerts are admission free and the public is invited to attend.

Speeding Charge

Wesley J. Rubble, 2415 Cardinal court, was issued an arrest ticket early Tuesday at Venice avenue and Pontoon road on a charge of speeding.

more than $4,000,000 for construction and related projects on the state's 1968 road building program was announced in Springfield last week. The contracts included work in 13 counties.

New Troopers

The Illinois State Police Academy has graduated 37 new troopers as it neared the halfway mark in its added manpower goal. The force now on duty numbers 1311 and an additional class in training will make the total more than 1350. Director of Public Safety Ross V. Randolph commented that approximately 150 additional places will be filled in continuous training classes opening in the fall. Men of 21 to 32 years of age will be welcomed by the recruiting officers in their nearest State Police District Headquarters.

State Offers Hints to Prevent Thefts from Boats in Area

Valuable boats loaded with expensive equipment are common on Illinois waterways in summer. They crowd docks and mooring areas at night. Sometimes unattended boats attract uninvited visitors. Object of the visit is not to cruise the waterways but to steal the craft or strip it.

The Illinois Department of Conservation urges all boat operators to take a few precautions to avoid theft.

1. Boats should be moored with steel chain or cable, not rope.
2. Mooring and docking areas should be lighted at night.
3. All hatches and ports should be locked when the craft is unattended.
4. A hidden switch should be installed in the ignition system.
5. Fuel line valves should be closed when the boat is unattended.
6. Portable equipment such as radios, electronic gear, fishing tackle, life jackets should be locked in a compartment if it cannot be carried ashore.
7. All radios, life jackets and other portable gear should be marked with the owner's name or some other identification.
8. A boat owner should keep a record of the make, model and serial number of his craft, the serial number of his motor, radio, electronic equipment and other gear at home.
9. Losses should be reported immediately to the county conservation officer, the state police or the county sheriff's office.

As soon as the Department of Conservation is notified of the stolen boat, motor or trailer, all county conservation officers are informed. Details are given to the state police for broadcast over their radio network.

Motorist Takes Blaze to Firemen

A local motorist made it easy for firemen Monday afternoon.

When the back seat of his 1962 auto caught fire, he drove the auto to the main fire station, 23rd street and Madison avenue, where firemen doused the blaze.

Firefighters estimated $30 damage to the auto of Emmett Wahrle, 2001 Edison avenue, and said the seat caught fire from a cigarette.

Last year 78 boats, 36 motors and nine trailers were reported stolen in Illinois. Of this number, 56 boats and 11 motors were recovered. The recovery rate was higher last year than in 1966 when 106 boats, 62 motors and 11 trailers were stolen. In 1966, 46 boats, 10 motors and one trailer were returned to their owners.

High Quality Vegetables In Area This Year

A good crop of high-quality vegetables of many kinds is being grown this year by local vegetable growers. Sweet corn locally will soon be abundant at local markets.

Vegetable growers met recently at Harley Willard's farm in Collinsville township with five University of Illinois specialists to exchange information about techniques of vegetable production.

Vegetable growers talk about a host of topics when they get together—vegetable varieties, pests (weeds, insects, plant diseases), labor, weather (it's usually been too hot, too cold, too dry or too wet), machinery and equipment, irrigation, mulch, Food and Drug Administration regulations, when harvest will begin and marketing. They also tell a few stories and usually have refreshments.

Most important, they do a fine job of combining a vast amount of technical information and market an abundant supply of quality vegetables.

In 1967 food amounted to 19.6% of consumer expenditures, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture. In 1957 we spent more, 22.7%.

Sub-soil moisture is adequate in Madison County upland soils. That is important to good crop growth. Soil probes made to a 36-inch depth in several townships last week showed ample moisture in the sub-soil. Farmland Values Up

The land boom in the United States has lifted average farmland values throughout the 1960's. And the report for the year ended March 1, 1968 shows the past year was no exception.

By March 1 of this year the market value of farm real estate had increased 6% from a year earlier. This compares with a prior increase of 7%.

Most farmers—and particularly the commercial farmer—can expect little direct benefit from industrial development in their communities, said John T. Scott Jr., University of Illinois associate professor of agricultural economics, in an address at the Illinois Farm Management Association's recent annual conference.

Scott cited more off-farm work opportunities and a possible windfall gain from higher land values as the two major sources of farmer benefits from industrial development.

The off-farm work opportunities increasingly require those seeking them to take full-time employment, thus reducing their farming operations to a part-time activity. Moreover, landowners are the only ones likely to receive windfall benefits from higher land values—and those benefits are final in nature, he added.

Many smaller farmers already rely heavily on non-farm jobs. Many others now consider to be commercial farmers must decide soon whether to make the technological changes necessary to maintain farm earning capacity or seek off-farm income, Scott said.

Fertilizing Gardens Now!

Garden soils often need more fertilizer, especially nitrogen, at this time of the growing season.

This is especially true this year. The prolonged wet period in May caused nitrogen to be lost through leaching or a change in its form.

Side dressings is applying fertilizer in a band along one side of the row about 4 inches from the crop. For leafy crops, greens and root crops, apply when half-grown. Apply to tomatoes, peppers, beans, cucumbers, etc., when they begin to set fruit.

Use 2.5 pounds of 33-0-0 per 1000 square feet. Avoid getting dry fertilizer on plant leaves as it will injure them. Hoe or cultivate the fertilizer into the soil.

Madison County Holstein Club. Everyone interested in Holstein cattle is invited.

Leaders in the cattle feeding industry have been stressing the importance of keeping slaughter weights down. Research reports show rising cost of grain and decreasing suitability as cattle get heavier.

Although there is a limited demand for well-finished, heavyweight cattle, the industry cannot afford to have prices depressed by excess tonnage of beef.

Studies made on finishing cattle show that as cattle get heavier daily gain goes down, feed per 100 pounds gain goes up, and cost per 100 pounds gain goes up.

water at harvest time. Keep them watered if the rains fail to come. As soon as harvest is completed, the dead fruiting canes should be cut out and burned. This is part of the sanitation program for disease control.

Dying Pear Trees? Do your pear trees look as if someone used a low-torch on them? If so, they have been infected with the bacterial disease called fireblight.

Some apple and crabapple varieties may also be infected. The symptoms are the same as in pear—dying shoots and black leaves.

There is no completely effective method of control short of cutting down the tree. A better method is to cut or break out the diseased branches and burn them. Make all cuts about 12 inches below the last point of infection.

No chemicals or sprays are available for home garden use at this time.

Strawberry Patch Renovation

Immediately after harvest is the time to start preparing your strawberry planting for next years crop.

Renovation is a process of renewing the planting through thinning out of plants, fertilizing, and using herbicides.

If you had a serious rot problem this year, renovation can be the starting point of a resolution to maintain the plants in narrow rows for better aeration.

To mow or not to mow off the leaves is a debatable question. Success has been obtained with and without mowing. When there is a severe infestation of insects and diseases on the leaves, mow the patch and remove the leaves. Otherwise, maintain the leaves to feed the plants and runners.

Weeds can be a serious problem in the future, but they can be controlled. After cultivation and plant thinning are completed, apply the herbicide dacthal to the entire area at the rate of 4.5 ounces of 75 percent material to each 1000 square feet. This material should be effective for about 10 weeks, at which time a repeat application can be made.

estimated taxes will have to increase their remaining payments. In either case, the corporations may have to make the July 15 payment.

The Act imposes a 10% tax surcharge on corporations as of Jan. 1, 1968.

It also changes corporation estimated tax rules for taxable years beginning in 1968 by decreasing the $100,000 exemption from estimated tax and by increasing from 70% to 80% the amount of estimated tax which must be paid in order to avoid any addition to tax for underpayment of estimated tax.

All payments of corporate income and estimated taxes should be made with Federal Tax Deposit Form 503 and deposited in an authorized bank. The IRS has a new work-

Tractor Pulling Contest Planned At State Fair

In this Sesquicentennial Year, the Illinois State Fair is expanding the tractor pulling contest, originated last year, into an Illinois state championship event with a total of $2000 being offered in prize money. About 150 tractors are expected to be entered.

State Fair Manager Franklin Rust said "tractor pulling has become most popular and we decided to sponsor the state championship pull on Aug. 13 and 14 during the fair."

The Illinois Tractor Pulling Association was formed last year, Philip Elzasser of Edinburg, who was elected president, said all rules and regulations are available from the County Fair Association of Illinois or the Illinois State Fair. In order to compete in the state meet, an entry must have qualified at a county fair or an independent contest and be certified eligible by the county fair secretary, he added.

Two of the association directors, Don Nolan of Owaneco and Jack DeClerck of Edinburg, met with Rust during the winter and completed plans for this year's championship event.

Nolan explained that home-made tractors—"hotrods," as he termed them—are welcome this year. He said, "Last year, one entry had a V-78 Allison airplane engine. He didn't finish in the money, but last year's RPM's were limited. This year they won't be."

A "step into space" is the title given the newest U. S. Air Force exhibit which will be on display at the Illinois State Fair Aug. 9 through 18.

The exhibit is an actual Titan missile shell containing a walk-through space showroom. Included is a full-sized model illustrating a new concept in atmosphere re-entry vehicles, the lifting body, attached to the Titan's nose. Space exhibits will range from a scale model of the Titan IIC, the Air Force's most powerful space booster, to a sample of space food consumed by astronauts.

Lawn & Garden

WAYNE B. SIEBERT
Extension Ornamental Horticulturist
for St. Clair and Madison Counties

Bare Spots in Turf
Bare spots in your lawn, can be easily repaired by patching with new sod.

There is no advantage to patching table plate sized bare spots unless there are more patches than grass. But when you decide to cut out clumps of undesirable grass like tall fescue and timothy or have large bare spots, then immediate repairs will solve the problem.

Early May or mid-September are better seasons for sodding, but special care will pay off in June.

If you transplant your own sod from your lawn, be sure the grass was well watered the day before you transplant. It isn't necessary to maintain much soil on the sod, but it is important to replant as soon as possible.

Many local nurserymen buy sod to complete landscape orders, and often will order an extra few rolls for you. Each roll is 9 square feet of grass, and can be cut up to fit your problem spots.

Daily watering is necessary until the new sod begins to grow. Pressing the sod down with your feet after one or two waterings will help to eliminate air pockets.

An extra application of fertilizer to the patched area will aid the patches, and help blend the new grass with the permanent lawn.

Weed Killers in Garden
You may be mad at dandelions and other pesky weeds, but think twice before you shoot.

I agree with you about getting those last few dandelions, but the spray drift of 2,4-D and other weed killers can be a disaster to your garden. Tomatoes and peppers are the first to show the curling and fan shaped leaves, but many other vegetables may also be affected.

Most of these broad leaf weeds are easily removed from your lawn in late April and early May, before gardens are planted. Mid-fall is also effective especially in October.

June control is very risky, but you can use granulars. Granulars are fertilizers that contain a weed killer or the granular weed killer will not drift over the garden when you use a drop-type spreader on a quiet day. Early morning when the grass is wet is ideal. It will be a disaster if you use a cyclone type spreader near your flowers or garden, even when the wind isn't blowing.

Mosquito Control
Mosquito control around your home can be very effective when you spray nearby shrubs and tall grass.

Mosquitoes seem to come-out during the evening and suddenly become blood thirsty and persistent. Unless you are close to a pond, or puddle, these insects come from nearby hideouts like shrubs, tall grass or porches.

Malathion sprays for mosquitoes are so effective it is tough to avoid wasting the chemical as you treat these hideouts. Porches, shrubs and tall grass should be sprayed every week or two, especially when mosquitoes are a problem.

Use liquid Malathion to avoid the powdery residue on the house and furniture. Concentrate on the cool shade areas where mosquitoes are likely to spend the day. Once the chemical dries, there is no danger to pets and children.

Flies, wasps and spiders will also be reduced, especially during the few days following treatment.

Mosquito control is tough unless you eliminate small puddles. Water in old tires, barrels, pails and nearby ditches is an ideal breeding area for mosquitoes. Dump out all these containers or spray them with malathion or DDT. In large bird baths, change the water each week.

Licensed Spray Experts
New regulations are helping you to get the service and skill you pay for.

Every concern who offers to prune and spray your trees and shrubs is required to be licensed by the state and have a Tree Experts License. Every contractor is compelled to show his license to you if you ask. When in doubt, call the company office to confirm their employment.

Custom spray operators who spray brush and farm crops have a different license, and are not properly licensed to spray or prune ornamental trees and shrubs.

When a contractor doesn't have a Tree Experts License, you have reason to be concerned. Unqualified contractors often do not have proper licenses or a local office.

Crabgrass
Clumps or strips of light green grass in your lawn is probably crabgrass.

If you are determined to clean out these pesky weeds, then a mid-summer series of sprays will destroy the weeds and leave the bluegrass. Both DSMA and AMA are designed for this selective control. Bluegrass is sometimes injured by the spray, but will survive while the weed grasses gradually die.

The weedy area should be sprayed two or three times at weekly intervals. Other weeds killed include sandbar, fox tail and goose grass. Triangular stemmed nut grass will be partially controlled.

Maryville Homecoming Set Friday, Saturday
Maryville fire department will hold its 28th annual homecoming Friday and Saturday with parades at 7 p.m. Monday on the Illinois Sesquicentennial there.

Harold Oberkell, parade chairman, said there will be 30 floats made by parents of children and several drum and bugle corps. The picnic is in the city park.

Planning Travel Wardrobe
When planning your travel needs think in terms of "costumes" rather than clothes.

Marjorie Sohn, University of Illinois Extension clothing specialist, says you can keep your travel wardrobe to a minimum if you plan it around a basic color or colors selected to harmonize with accessories of one color.

First of all, make a complete list of places you intend to visit and activities you are likely to engage in, including your travel en route. Then plan your wardrobe around your itinerary.

To achieve a good appearance with a minimum of wardrobe maintenance, choose garments of wrinkle-resistant fabrics that are not too light in color. Pastels obviously will show soil and wrinkles more quickly than will medium and dark colors.

You'll find that simple classic styles in mix-and-match separates will be most comfortable and adaptable to changing temperature. Of course, comfortable shoes are a must. And remember that veteran travelers always include rainwear.

Tips on Hemming
Length of skirt is a design detail that gives clothing the "in fashion" or the "out-of-fashion" look. When changing the length of a skirt, take time to do it properly.

With today's emphasis on hemlines, a professional hemming job is a must, says Marjorie Sohn, University of Illinois Extension clothing specialist.

The hem must be marked from the floor up to compensate for figure irregularities. Many homemakers mistakenly measure from the waistline down. But a skirt that measures the same distance all around the waistline to hem is not likely to hang evenly because of figure dimensions.

The flare of the skirt determines how much width is needed in the hem fold. The general rule is: the narrower the skirt, the larger the fold (the more full, the narrower the hem). For example, a straight skirt may have as much as a three-inch hem. But an A-line should have only a two-inch hem. Back in style are circle skirts that take fitting facing or shirt-tail hems.

The fabric determines whether bias or seam binding must be used. If the fabric ravels or bulk of fabric from the turned-under edge of hem would leave an imprint, a tape or binding may be the best finish for the raw edge.

If the hem is flared, bias tape will be more satisfactory than straight seam binding. Unfold one edge of the bias tape and stitch it to the edge of the hem.

Forestry Division Boosting Prices

The Forestry Division has increased the prices of its seedling trees, shrubs and wildlife packets for the 1969 planting season, the Illinois Department of Conservation announced today.

Autumn olive, ash, black alder, bush honeysuckle, cottonwood, shrub and silky dogwood, regular size multiflora rose, red gum, soft maple, sycamore, tulip poplar, four varieties of oak, river birch and black locust now cost $16 per 1000. The price of red cedar and jack, Scotch and white pine per thousand is now $18. Bald cypress, loblolly pine and shortleaf pine cost $12 per thousand seedlings. One thousand black walnut seedlings are sold for $20 and the seeds for $6 per thousand. Large multiflora rose are sold for $32 per thousand seedlings. Wildlife packets cost $12 each.

Individual, separate orders of 20,000 to 50,000 plants will now receive a five per cent discount and on orders of more than 50,000 seedlings the discount will be eight per cent. The Forestry Division will accept tree orders starting Sept. 1, 1968. Seedlings from the two state nurseries are sold for less than cost for planting on rural land for conservation purposes or timber production. The increase in prices is necessary to reduce the deficit.

Illinois state nurseries grow a greater variety of trees and shrubs than other state nurseries in the 20 state Northeastern Forest Service Area.

Former Troy Tribune publisher, beginning at the age of 19, he has campaigned against crime and legislative dishonesty. Author of four books, Simon won the annual "best legislator" award of the Independent Voters of Illinois seven times.

'Win Back' Led to 32 Diplomas; No Property Tax Cost

The "Win Back" program not only enabled 32 adults to earn diplomas from Granite City high school in the 1967-68 school year but also was administered at no cost to property owners.

A review of the initial year of the program shows that costs totaled $7887 but tuition provided $3018 and a $5040 state reimbursement was received, leaving a balance of $70.

Salaries amounted to $7540, custodial services $168 and utilities $281.

Enrollment for the second year of the evening classes is in progress from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday at the Granite City high school office. Starting Aug. 26, registration also will be possible between 7:30 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday.

Those who are 18 or older and whose high school class has graduated are eligible. They must reside in the Granite City district, and must have attended at least one year in a recognized high school, with transcripts sent here if it was not GCHS.

Regular diplomas are awarded under "Win Back." The plan differs from the General Educational Development testing and instruction program, through which equivalency certificates are issued.

Flying Cross, Medal For Major Pelichoff

Major Ralph A. Pelichoff, a former resident now making his home in Maryville, Cal., with his wife and son, received the Distinguished Flying Cross and Air Medal at ceremonies held recently at Beale AFB in Maryville, Cal.

He received the awards for participating in aerial warfare as a pilot near the DM zone in Vietnam.

The citation stated he located a crash scene of a helicopter and observation plane and called for a rescue crew. While awaiting arrival he orbited around the scene to draw the fire of the hostile enemy to obtain their position. He then broadcast to the survivors directing them away from the enemy to affect a safe recovery.

Major Pelichoff attended Washington school until his family moved to Edwardsville where he was graduated from high school. After graduation from Illinois University, he enlisted in the Air Force in 1961 receiving his pilot's wings in 1963, and has remained in the service since enlisting.

Testing for Driver License To Get Tougher, Expert Says

It is going to be harder to get and renew driver's licenses in Illinois in the near future if, James E. Aaron, SIU-Carbondale safety expert, is right. He says there is a "good chance" of stricter controls on licensing next year.

Aaron is coordinator of the SIU safety center and a director of the Citizens Advisory Committee on Drivers Licensing. He said the committee will probably recommend that the General Assembly "make licensing tests more difficult to keep many of these borderline drivers off the road."

"One of the most important steps we can take to make the roads safer," he said, "is to make sure there are better drivers behind the wheel."

The committee was created by the state senate to examine the present state driver licensing laws and recommend ways to make them conform more closely to the guidelines of the Uniform Vehicle Code and the National Highway Safety Bureau.

According to Aaron, the present law is "somewhat weak" and needs clarification in some areas and "completely new provisions" in others.

Aaron said he cannot at the present time say what specific recommendations will be made. A strong possibility, he said, is the creation of a medical review board. Such boards have been suggested by the U. S. Department of Transportation, he said, as a means of keeping unqualified drivers off the road.

Aaron said the committee will make its recommendations to the General Assembly in December.

Joys of Outdoor Life Recalled By Diary of 1st Boy Scout Troop Here

(Hundreds of Quad-City Boy Scouts are attending a camp in the Missouri Ozarks this summer, recalling memories of similar camping by local youths through the years. A diary kept by Granite City Boy Scout Troop One during its 18-day stay in the Ozark mountains near Ironton, Mo., in July 1918, includes the following notes.)

"Camp was located five miles from town on a hillside. Creek, just below Killany Lake and dam; plenty of good spring water and fresh farm produce.

"Mr. Archie Boyd had furnished his Dodge truck to haul our baggage to Union Station.

"Assistant Scoutmaster Carl Graham, assisted by Scouts Boyd, Strunk and William Richards, left at 6 a.m. with our tents and equipment. The rest of the scouts, in the charge of Scoutmaster W. R. Webb, left Granite City at 6:45 a.m. and arrived at Union Station at 8 a.m. We were the first to board the train and secured an apartment consisting of half a car.

"We saw lots of log cabins and large rocks on the mountainsides. We arrived at Ironton at 12:30 and were met by Mr. Rankin, our former friend, who hailed our tents and equipment in his wagon.

"We stopped at the Iron County courthouse and saw the courtrooms at the public well.

"We arrived at Camp Rankin at 3:15 and 5 o'clock most of the tents were up. We built a stove out of rocks filled our beds with straw and went swimming. We had a picnic campfire and went to bed to the music of bullfrogs that made noise like steamboats whistling.

"'Gee, it's cool,' was the comment as we took our morning plunge. A grapevine swing was enjoyed, and we put a diagnosis on Old Glory could wave over our camp. Sleeping is fine but one must have two covers on or freeze.

"Several boys went fishing; we have out two trout lines and got some big turtles. Fred, Fred and son, Waldo, arrived; he engaged a room at Mr. Rankin's and Waldo stays at camp with Ralph.

"This is sure some country for sleep; the bugler can hardly get the boys up. We had a little treks exploring the nearby mountains, and the senior patrol hiked to Ironton, a mile brought out our tent and cooking utensils. We are enjoying the use of a boat. We caught some grasshoppers and minnows for fishing and had a fairly good catch.

"Mr. Webb told us a ghost story and went up a coumbut. Then we went up

Mail Now Opposes Gun Restrictions

By U. S. Senator Charles H. Percy of Illinois

Gun control mail continues to dominate the communications my office is receiving. I received nearly 400 pieces of mail in June dealing with gun control. Every letter will be answered. However, despite evening and weekend schedules and extra personnel brought in, there may be a delay of several weeks for replies.

Last week, 80% of the mail received dealt with gun control. Previously, the mail

Wealth of Data On Community Needs Is Of No Value Unless Acted Upon

"What will the city of St. Louis be like in ten years? In 20 years? What forces will determine the future of the city? Are the problems facing St. Louis indigenous to this area or are they typical of other cities throughout the U.S.?"

Such questions are not unique. But it is interesting to note that they are being asked and answers are being sought by the Center of Community and Metropolitan Studies of the University of Missouri at St. Louis.

The urban problem solving function of the center, established in 1965, calls to mind the studies during the 1960s by various Southern Illinois University departments and bureaus on development problems in this region, including the needed rejuvenation of downtown Granite City.

It is a well accepted practice for universities to aid in analyzing and meeting community needs, with responsible public and business officials making the ultimate decisions on which actions to take.

There is nothing sacred about the findings or recommendations of any particular institution or agency, but such background information can be invaluable to an area beset with a problem and groping for a remedy.

A wealth of research has been carried out in the Quad-Cities. Because the relevancy of any data can be impaired by the passage of time, an issue comes increasingly into focus is whether it will lead to action and progress, or to disinterest and inaction—a "head in the sand" approach that leaves both ostriches and communities in a vulnerable position.

Time to Settle Madison School Issues Is Now, Not After Classes Are Disrupted

The political strength of school employee groups has enabled them in recent years to exercise bargaining and strike powers which the laws of most states say they do not have. Until this disparity is resolved in one direction or the other, many districts—including Madison this year—may be caught in the middle.

BOATING, FISHING CLUB SCHEDULES OPEN HOUSE
To the Editor:

The no-profit Bowline Boat Club, cradled alongside the Hartford Canal, beckons to water enthusiasts to launch their boats on a sample some fine boating and fishing.

This Saturday is open house at the club and the members invite the public to inspect their progress in making it one of the finest boat clubs in this part of the country.

The boat club this year has invited the public as guest members, to use the ramp for a ramp fee of $1. The club progress with more docks each year. The club also has available at all times gas, oil, water and cold soda.

The Missouri River outlet to the Mississippi is only across the "point" from the Bowline Boat Club. The water is always like a sheet of glass. It provides boaters with excellent riding conditions and beautiful scenery along the banks.

Also, the Missouri River is turning out to be a fisherman's paradise. Fishermen are returning to the club with four to seven pounds of channel catfish, carp and white perch.

For the boaters who want such relaxation as sking and camping, only one block to the right of the boat club outlet the river becomes clean. And for the ones who like to camp, there are sand bars along the Mississippi and Missouri which provide fun for the entire family.

The club extends its invitation to the public to visit the club Saturday, July 13, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. The club will examine the speed boats arriving from all parts of the country, which will be held Sunday, July 14.

So hop aboard and see everything at the Boatline Club this weekend.

PROTESTS TAX PAYMENTS DUE TO VALUATION HIKE
To the Editor:

In the July 3 issue of the Press-Record, the Nameoki township tax collector, Gene Rotter, had no explanation for the decline in the amount of taxes collected so far in Nameoki township.

I wonder if the 35% property tax raise in five of the seven precincts in Nameoki township had anything to do with this decline?

The Wilshire and other civic groups in these five precincts have been protesting against this raise ever since it was announced.

If they have protested assessments to the Board of Review in Edwardsville, only to be told by that board that they were pending upon acceptance into the city, and there was nothing we could do about the tax raise.

This issue was then taken to the State Property Tax Board of Appeals.

We feel that we were discriminated against in the way of fighting this outrageous raise by paying our taxes under protest.

We intend to pursue this matter as far as possible. Anyone needing information or tax protest forms may contact me at 877-1599 or Mike Ropac at 876-2137.

POLITICAL FREELoadERS ON STATE PAYROLL LIST
To the Editor:

Why are our state taxes exorbitant?

The state payroll report for the Quad-City area shows 423 Quad-Cityans were paid $1,496,038 for the year of 1967, a decrease of 26 employees over the previous year.

Notwithstanding government spending is compulsory, but the state payroll includes freeloaders. Most of our present state highways were built under Gov. Stratten; under Gov. Kerr, the emphasis was on adding employees.

Expenditures have been much higher since the Stratten administration ended. Now, a special session of the Legislature July 15 will attempt to find sufficient funds to make up a tax deficit.

Judging by the Quad-City list, the number of freeloaders in the entire state must result in many millions of dollars being poured down the political drain every biennium to keep the Democratic party strong.

How much more taxing can we stand with a 38-cent dollar? Still, the remark of the day by the Democratic party strong, "We never had it so good."

Four more years of this and the state will be a paper called currency will be as worthless as Russian rubles when the Lenin and Trotsky came to power.

Brief Assembly Session to Open

(Review of Legislation in Illinois General Assembly)

When the General Assembly reconvenes Monday, July 15, for a session of one or two weeks of additional revenue for the state is expected to be the major issue.

Within 24 hours after becoming governor, Samuel Shapiro planned to discuss one of the looming state financial crisis and meet with legislative leaders to discuss the state's budget matters and the impending deficit.

Prior to the session, House and Senate committees have been meeting in an effort to hear all bills introduced at the March 4 session. As a result, some new laws may stem from the mid-summer session.

To date, the 78th Illinois General Assembly is beginning its session with a regular session in January.

Port Board Okays Mayor Stresses Importance 2nd Bond Payment Of Tourists Visits in GC

The Tri-City Regional Port Authority board authorized payment of its second bond during a regular meeting Monday night. Bond retirements, in the amount of $500 for each bond, are made through the Continental Illinois National Bank of Chicago.

The revenue bonds were taken up by the Chicago bank three years ago to finance port installations in the area of the Chain of Rocks Canal.

Port commissioners also discussed the need of additional rail trackage for storage at the port area. Carl Rant, port manager, said these would consist only of spur tracks on which cars could be stored pending loading or unloading.

The annual budget prepared for bondholders and the annual report of consulting engineers Sheppard, Morgan & Schwaab, were approved.

Methods of filling a low area in the port area were discussed. The low sections, now unusable, are being filled with core sand from American Steel Foundries and eventually will provide additional land space.

A plug for tourism in Granite City was made this week by Mayor Partney in his monthly report to local residents.

"Your mayor has agreed to serve as a member of the State Tourism Committee for Region 8, comprising of Madison, Bond, Calhoun, Clinton, Fayette, Jersey, Marion, Monroe, Montgomery, St. Clair, and Washington counties.

"A recent study of tourism in Illinois indicated that in one year 52 million tourists spent $345,000 for gas and service, $569,000 for food and drink, $227,000 for lodging. That is big business. Much of this is happening without much effort on our part. How much would we concentrate on selling what we have to tourists in our own back yard.

"With our Canal and Locks, a lot of citizens do not realize that our Locks are the largest in the Western Hemisphere, larger than the Panama Canal Locks.

"The American people are spending more and more money for vacations, travel, and recreation. This money is spent wherever they go.

"We are concerned with not only getting the people who live in our region to visit the attractions we have, but, also to interest those who are traveling through our state to stop and spend some time with us. We hope to interest many in coming to our area. We are convinced of the benefit to all the citizens in our area through the promotion of tourism.

"The Region 8 Tourism Council is one of ten similar organizations created in 1963 following an act of Legislature which provides funds on a matching basis to those raised within our region. The funds are earmarked for tourist promotion exclusively, disseminated through the Tourism Division of Business and Economic Development. We have in our city 12 contributing members.

"The State of Illinois helps us if we help ourselves. Matching funds are provided through the Illinois Division of Tourism to those raised within our region. What do we do with these funds? At the present time, we have had 25,000 four-color brochures of the region presented to be distributed throughout the region at fairs and sport shows. Five-color counter displays are available for brochures in restaurants, motels and banks. The colorful 18-inch high display, offers the brochures to customers and points out that the proprietor is promoting tourism in Region 8. Participation in various fairs and sports, travel and boat shows, promotion of Sesqui-centennial activities within Region 8 and the nearby area of the state.

"Each and every one of our citizens can help us. In your travels be a good-will Ambassador for your city and state. Distribute literature about our region and make our people aware of the value of tourism. Thus, we help to increase business traffic. The more business our merchants do, the more sales tax our city receives to provide more services to our citizens without added property tax.

"I extend my welcome to all Citizens to attend our council meetings on the first, third and fourth Mondays of each month.

N&W, C&O Lines Agree To Merger Conditions

The Norfolk & Western and the Chesapeake & Ohio Railways have agreed to accept conditions placed by the federal government on the N&W-C&O merger plan.

In a brief filed this week at Washington with the Interstate Commerce Commission, the two railroads said that while the terms would impose heavy burdens on both lines, they would not oppose the conditions. Because of the consummation of the Penn-Central merger, they said, it is imperative that the N&W-C&O merger be approved as promptly as possible.

The Justice Department last month filed a memorandum with the ICC expressing the opinion that the merger "is not objectionable from the standpoint of public interest and, indeed, may promote it."

The three provisions provided the three provisions are met. It was believed to be the first time in ten years that the government has approved a rail merger while the case still is pending before the ICC. The three conditions provide that the ICC retain jurisdiction over the N&W-C&O merger for ten years to determine if the system then should divest itself of the former Wabash lines west of the Mississippi; that the ICC require the merged system to assure continued operation of several smaller lines to be included in the system even if those roads should file bankruptcy, and finally, that the merged lines assure shippers and receivers of competitive service on freight moving to and from Maine.

Easter Seal Camp Aids Children in Area

Several children of this area who cannot take part in physical activities that most children enjoy because of a physical handicap will realize their dream of attending a summer camp this year.

The camp is sponsored by the Easter Seal Society for crippled children and adults and is known as Camp Little Giant. Located on the shores of Little Grassy Lake, eight miles southeast of Carbondale at Southern Illinois University's Little Grassy Lake campus.

Camp facilities include a large dining room and lodge combination, a well-equipped therapy center and many screened cabins with ramps to make them accessible to the physically handicapped. SIU provides the leadership and professional staff for the program. Most of the counselors are university students in course work using the camp as a laboratory for observation.

Camp Activities

Among the activities offered for the campers are swimming, sailing, canoeing, fishing, raft rides, trail riding, outdoor cooking, overnight camping, camp craft, nature study, hobbies, sports and games, music, campfire programs and special events.

A camping program of this type, the society points out, gives something extra to the child in the way of education, affording him the opportunity for group living and allows him to adjust to social conditions which cannot be duplicated.

Most campers develop new skills, new hobbies, new interests and appreciations, and develop a keener sense of self-reliance and self-confidence in their abilities and community responsibilities. Every effort is made to teach the child to be self-reliant and independent in such things as bathing and personal care, transferring from wheelchairs to bed or automobile.

The camp is described as a therapeutic community with no competition or stresses. Any individual who by birth, illness or injury is deprived of the usual function of his neuro-muscular and associated skeletal system may attend.

Some of the children and adults who can benefit from services provided by the local Easter Seal Society are those handicapped by cerebral palsy, blindness, muscular dystrophy, polio, arthritis, and other orthopedic conditions.

$84 Cost for 2 Weeks

Children from the ages of six to 17 are accepted and may be sponsored by a local organization or payment of $84 for two weeks may be paid by the parents. If the family are unable to pay the full amount arrangements may be made with the camp director, Mrs. Mildred Hollins, P.O. Box 249, Carbondale, Ill. 62901. Sessions opened June 30 and close Aug. 10.

Two of the local youngsters who will attend the camp are Patricia McMain, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman McMain of 75 Kaseberg Park, Granite City, and Vickie Burger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Burger, 629 Lincoln avenue, Venice.

Now's the time to fight humidity in your basement with a General Electric dehumidifier... the super-sponge that takes gallons of harmful moisture out of the air every day.

Humidity destroys silently but so effectively. An entire winter wardrobe can mildew. Metal tools and appliances become rusty and useless... leather goods get moldy. Dripping pipes can ruin floor and ceiling tiles.

2 Former GC Boys Injured Seriously By Fireworks

Two young boys whose father is employed by a local contractor were injured seriously in a fireworks explosion at 8 p.m. Monday, in the backyard of their home in Dover, Tenn., where the family has resided since leaving Granite City two years ago.

McQuade Milliken, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Milliken of Dover, formerly of Granite City, is in serious condition at Baptist Hospital, Nashville, Tenn., after losing two fingers of his right hand in the explosion. He also sustained severe lacerations to the chest, arms and right palm and thumb, and numerous glass fragments embedded near the mouth.

The youngster underwent surgery for a five-hour period Monday evening and is scheduled to undergo a second operation today in an attempt to save the right hand, a local relative said.

Less seriously hurt was McQuade's older brother, Ross Milliken, 13 years, who is hospitalized at the Clarksville Memorial Hospital, Clarksville, Tenn., for cuts to the chest and arms.

Mrs. John Misturak, 2644 Madison avenue, an aunt of the injured boys, told the Press-Record that the accident occurred when the youngsters filled a bottle with powder, removed from fireworks, and lighted a fuse which was placed through a hole in the bottle cap. Initially, the powder refused to ignite, however, as the younger boy picked it up and began to unscrew the cap, the glass container shattered in his hand. The older youth was standing a few feet from the explosion point, she said.

The father, a bricklayer employed by Paul Worthen Brick Contractors, who commutes each weekend between Dover and Granite City, was home at the time due to the holiday weekend. Two Dover physicians accompanied the younger boy on the 67-mile trip by ambulance to the Nashville Hospital, Mrs. Misturak said.
